Diary of a Stuck-at-Home Kid

Written and illustrated by Someone told me I should put sheets of paper together to make a diary or a journal.

Someone also said I should jot my thoughts into this made up book. Supposedly, this diary will be interesting reading in years to come.

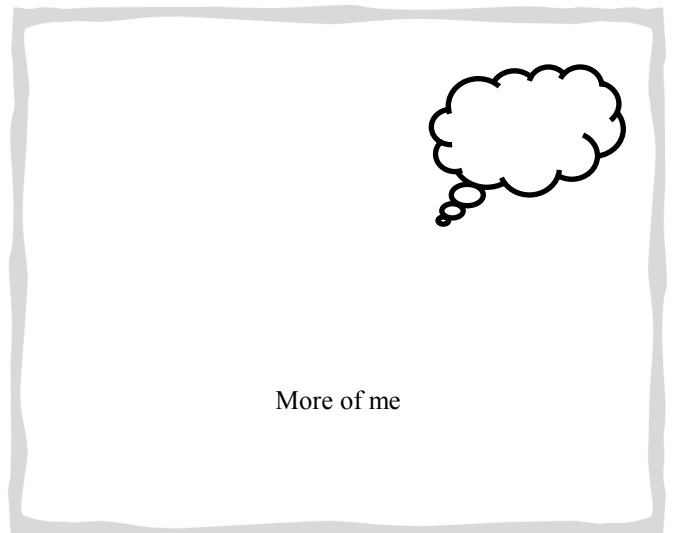

Anyway, I guess you want to know who I am.

I'm

Sometimes I

Did you know

*use these sheets for toilet paper?
if desperate, could someone also*

I suppose you're wondering why I'm a stuck-at-home kid. Let me fill you in.

It's the year 2020

This happened

This is what I had to do

Then this happened.

And I had to do this

Feeek! Who has toilet paper?

Yes, I'm stuck at home.

This is where I'm stuck

My home is

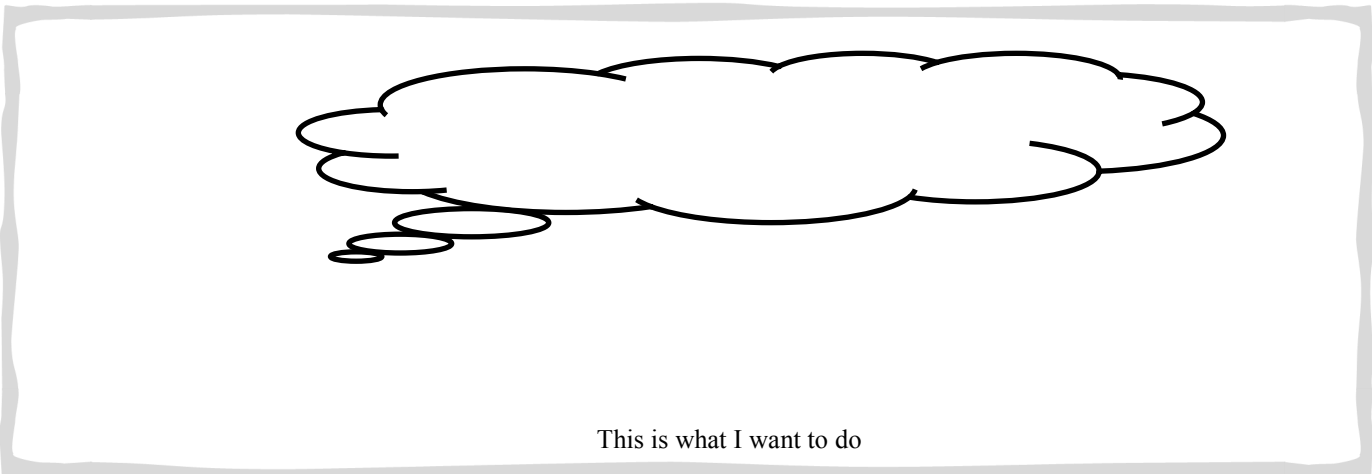

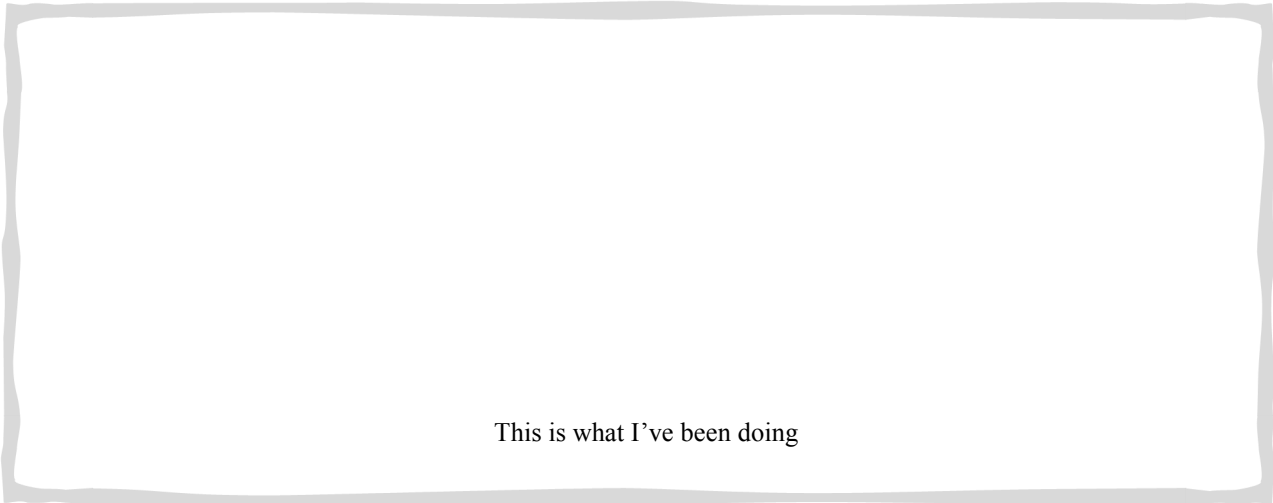

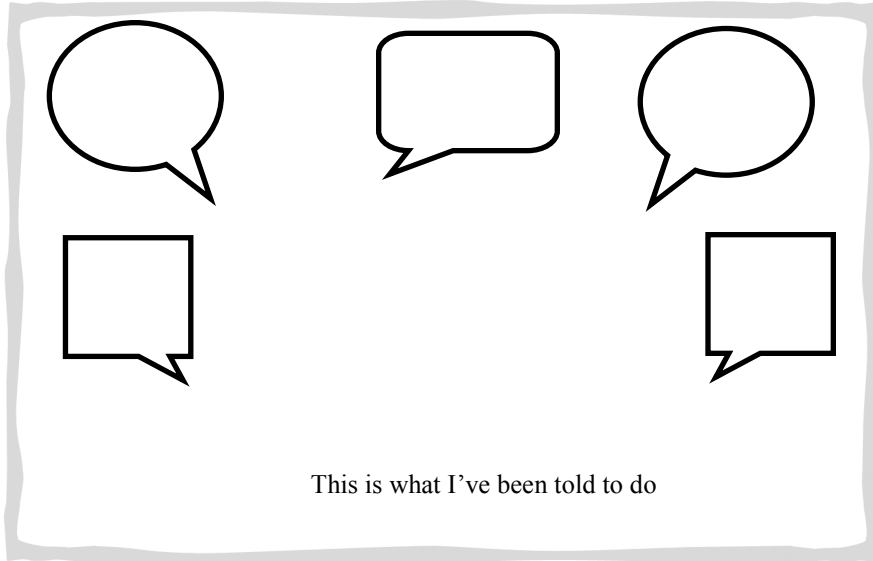

Sometimes

In my home

This is who I'm stuck with

Why are toilet paper jokes so funny? Because they crack you up!

While I'm stuck at home, I've been told to keep myself busy.

Why do toilet paper comedians tell so many jokes? Because they're on a roll.

I'm not the only one stuck at home.
My friends are too.

Here are some of my stuck-at-home friends

This is what they've been up to

We've been coming up with snazzy ways to stay in touch

Why did the toilet paper roll down the hill? To reach the bottom.

Others are also stuck at home. Are you wondering what they're up to?

What did one piece of toilet paper say to the other? I feel really wiped.

Look! I've been making lists while I'm stuck at home.

Me with more of my favourite things

Whose favourite thing is toilet paper?

*Why didn't the toilet paper make it across the road?
It was stuck in a crack.*

Here are some of my stuck-at-home thank you messages.
What am I thankful for? Who am I thankful to? Look into my heart and find out.

*Stuck at home ness is like toilet paper:
Each day is different but you help where you can and go with the flow.*

Ideas grow when I'm stuck at home. Words, ways, worlds and wishes waltz in my mind.
I've been daydreaming, doodling and discovering.

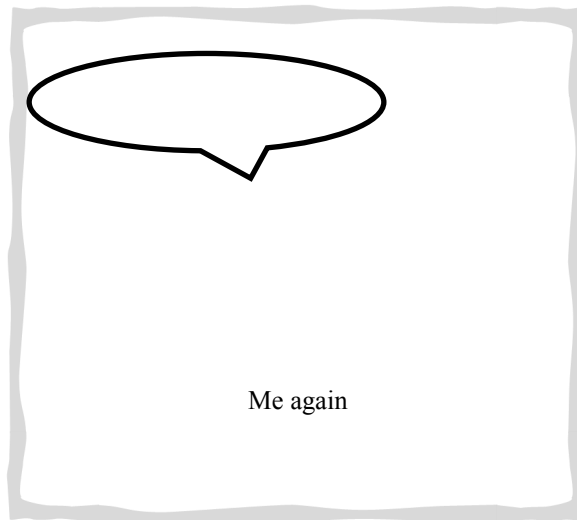

Someone told me this isn't necessarily the last page of my diary. More pages can be added. More thoughts, articles, artwork, stories and photographs can be included. Maybe a movie will be made. Ideas of a Stuck-at-Home kid continue to grow.

What happened to the guy who had a toilet paper display collapse on him at the supermarket? He suffered from soft tissue damage.

MORE IDEAS

Ran out of toilet paper so had to start using lettuce leaves... today was the tip of the iceberg.

Me again

It's 2020. A kid is stuck at home.
